

FirstName LastName

Instructor Name

Course

Due Date

Title of Your Assignment

Include the number of sources required for your assignment.
Use the UAGC Library to find scholarly sources.

Format for an Online Scholarly Journal Article:

Author's Last Name, First Name. "Title of article." Title of Periodical, vol., no. (issue), date of publication, pp. (if available), DOI or URL. Date of Access.

In the first paragraph of your annotation, summarize the main points of the source. Be sure to summarize the main points using your own words. Do not copy and paste information directly from the source.

In the second paragraph of your annotation, explain how the source is relevant to your paper. Explain how this particular source will help you develop one or more of the main points in your essay.

Author's Last Name, First Name. "Title of article." Title of Periodical, vol., no. (issue), date of publication, pp. (if available), DOI or URL. Date of Access.

In the first paragraph of your annotation, summarize the main points of the source. Be sure to summarize the main points using your own words. Do not copy and paste information directly from the source.

In the second paragraph of your annotation, explain how the source is relevant to your paper. Explain how this particular source will help you develop one or more of the main points in your essay.

Include the number of sources required for your assignment.

Format for an Online Magazine:

Author, Name. "Article title." Magazine Title, publication date, URL. Date of access.

In the first paragraph of your annotation, summarize the main points of the source. Be sure to summarize the main points using your own words. Do not copy and paste information directly from the source.

In the second paragraph of your annotation, explain how the source is relevant to your paper. Explain how this particular source will help you develop one or more of the main points in your essay.

Include the number of sources required for your assignment.

Format for a Webpage:

Author's Last Name, First Name. "Title of Web Page." Name of Site, name of organization (sponsor or publisher), date of creation (if available), URL. Date of access.

In the first paragraph of your annotation, summarize the main points of the source. Be sure to summarize the main points using your own words. Do not copy and paste information directly from the source.

In the second paragraph of your annotation, explain how the source is relevant to your paper. Explain how this particular source will help you develop one or more of the main points in your essay.

Include the number of sources required for your assignment.

Format for an Ashford Textbook (online edition)

Author's Last Name, First Name. Title of book: Subtitle of book, version or edition, ebook, publisher, publication year. DOI or URL (if available) Date of Access (Optional)

In the first paragraph of your annotation, summarize the main points of the source. Be sure to summarize the main points using your own words. Do not copy and paste information directly from the source.

In the second paragraph of your annotation, explain how the source is relevant to your paper. Explain how this particular source will help you develop one or more of the main points in your essay.

Tip 1: Note that references are listed in alphabetical order.

Tip 2: When including a URL for an online journal, you must search for the journal's home page and include this in your reference entry. You may not include the URL found through your university library, as readers will not have access to this library.

Tip 3: Delete these "hints" (red boxes) before turning in your final assignment.